SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT FOUGHT IN MARYLAND

Baltimore, Md., December 14.—Trial of the suit brought by the Maryland State League of Defense to test the validity of the federal woman suffrage amendment was begun in the court of common pleas here today.

The action is directed against the board of registrars of the seventh precinct of the eleventh ward asking that they be required to strike from their books the names of two women, one white, the other a negro, because the petitioners do not admit the force of the amendment. Two main points are set forth in the petition of the anti-suffragists: one, that the amendment is not such as congress is authorized by Article 4, of the constitution, to propose the legislatures of the various states to be ratified by them, and the other, that it was never properly ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Everett P. Wheeler, of New York, representing the American Constitutional league, is associated with the local Council of the Defense league.

WILLARD RE-ELECTED
B. & O. PRESIDENT

New York, December 14.—Daniel Willard was re-elected president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company at the annual meeting of the board of directors here today. Other executive officers chosen were: George M. Schriver, P. C. Batchelder, C. W. Galloway and Archibald Fries, vice presidents; C. W. Woolford, secretary; E. M. Devereaux, treasurer, and H. L. Bond, Jr., general counsel.

The company's net railway income for the twelve months to December 31, 1920, partly estimated, was announced as $28,283,387, an increase of $334,562, compared with the preceding year, while the net income after deducting interest, rents, taxes and miscellaneous, was $7,898,788, a decrease of $633,920.

The board declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred payable March 1 to stockholders of record on January 15, 1921.

ROTARY BOYS' BAND
GIVE FINE CONCERT

It was with unusual pride that W. M. Brownlee's Rotary Boys' band gave a concert Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Men's association of the West End Presbyterian church, for it was their first public appearance in their new uniforms, recently furnished them by the Rotary club.

The boys' band, organized under the direct supervision of Mr. Brownlee, has become a very proficient aggregation of musicians, and the youngsters show much enthusiasm in their work. Their rendition of a number of popular airs on Tuesday night was well received by the audience. The band is led by Ed Gallian.

The principal speaker was Dr. Edgar H. Johnson, of Emory university. President J. E. Whiteman acted as toastmaster.

EVANS AND ADAMSON
SONS OF REVOLUTION

Savannah, Ga., December 14.—(Special.)—Judge Beverly D. Evans, of the federal court, Savannah, and Charles Adamson, of Cedarstone, were today elected members of the Sons of the Revolution at a meeting of the board of managers, composed of T. P. Ravenal, W. H. Harden, T. S. Russen, H. M. King, W. L. Grayson, Henry McAlpin, H. S. Colding and W. R. Swartout. The matter of suitably buying and marking the resting place of Samuel Elbert, who, with Lachlan McIntosh, was one of the only two brigadier generals from Georgia in the revolutionary war, was considered and will be acted upon later.

The body of General Elbert, for whom Elbert county was named, was not located for many years.

LEAGUE HALTS ON LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS

Politely Worded Request
Made to Powers That They Cease Building on Great Scale of the Past.

VEILED ALLUSIONS TO UNITED STATES

American Policy Invoked
as One Reason Why General Disarmament Cannot Be Grappled With at Present.

Geneva, December 14.—There will be no immediate limitation of armaments by any of the powers which are members of the league of nations—unless such limitation is purely voluntary.

While the league has accepted the principle of curtailment in world-wide armament, it has failed to force through the measure destined to secure this desired end. What it adopted, as a compromise measure, is frankly nothing more than a polite worded request to the several governments that they cease building military and naval establishments on the tremendous basis of the past. But the request is not formally binding.

A little group of three nations—England, France and Belgium—led the attack on the compulsory curtailment scheme. The assembly had proposed issuing a demand that all military budgets for the next two years should not exceed the budget for the current year.

Secret Defensive Alliance.
But when debate on the measure began, there cropped out an indication that the recently signed, secret defensive alliance between France and Belgium, with the probable inclusion of Great Britain, would play a big part in the decision among most of the delegates that all three of these nations had secretly agreed to increase their military, naval and aerial budgets, rather than reduce them.

Lord Robert Cecil, who, as usual, took up the cudgels on the side of "advanced thought" in the league, made an earnest plea to all delegates who couldn't, for political or domestic reasons, vote in favor of the measure of limitation, to abstain from voting rather than weaken the moral effect of the proposal by casting their ballots against it.

CAUTIOUS STEP TAKEN BY LEAGUE -ON DISARMAMENT

Geneva, December 14.—(By the Associated Press).—The limitation of armaments by the powers for the next two years by agreement among them was acted upon favorably today by the assembly of the league of nations. The matter came up in the form of the report of the disarmament committee, the limitations clause in which was amended to merely a recommendation before the report was adopted.

With respect to the limitations clause, Leon Bourgeois made the reservation that France was obliged to reserve her armaments that had been worn out by the war. The Belgian and Spanish delegations at the afternoon session, made similar reservations regarding the limitation of their armaments during the next two years.

Notwithstanding the reservations, France, together with Brazil, Chile, Greece, Poland, Rumania and Uruguay, voted against the limitations clause.

Hjalmar Branting, Sweden, pointed out that the reservations did not change the situation, since a resolution on that subject was only a recommendation by the delegates voting therefor, who are not understood as committing their governments.

United States Policy Mentioned.
The policy of the United States on this question was, by more or less veiled allusions, invoked as one reason why general disarmament cannot be fully grappled with at this time, Mr. Barnes said. H. A.

Fisher, of the British delegation, referred to "nations with powerful arms and munitions making facilities that will be outside the league." The absence from the league of former enemy countries also was referred to by Mr. Fisher. This brought from Mr. Barnes the retort: "They are now practically disarmed and cannot constitute a menace for years to come."

A curious manifestation of the session was the general applause of the delegates for the plea made by Messrs. Barnes and Lange for immediate minimum effort, while at the same time accepting the conclusions of the disarmament committee. These are, briefly, an effort to prevent the future increase of armaments and propaganda in favor of a decrease as a steady means of bringing about eventual, but remote, general disarmament.

With Reservations.
France and Belgium accepted the committee's conclusions upon limitations of armament expenditures during the next two years on the basis of appropriations for last year. They added, however, that they could not consider the restoration of armaments destroyed during the war as increased expenditure, but pointed out that measures were being taken to reduce the period of military service. M. Poullet, of Belgium, said: "Belgium has received no reparations. She cannot spike her guns while the league of nations still is in the process of formation."

In explaining the report to the assembly, Hjalmar Branting, of Sweden, and H. A. L. Fisher, of Great Britain, said that the committee, while unanimously and wholeheartedly in favor of the speediest possible disarmament, was forced to come to the conclusion that the moment had not arrived when it would be possible to accomplish it.

"There are countries with the most powerful armament building facilities outside the league," said Mr. Fisher, "and disarmament can begin only when it is universal."

Control of Traffic in Arms.
The committee's report pointed out that a convention for the control of the traffic in arms and munitions was signed by Great Britain, the United States, France, Japan, Belgium, Bolivia, Cuba, St. Germain, Greece and Italy at the peace treaty was signed, but that this convention had not yet been ratified and that no steps had been taken to make it effective. The resolution proposed that the council urge the signatories to ratify the treaty without delay.

The convention is question proposed exports of arms and munitions except under special licenses or deliveries to the governments themselves. It was especially intended to prevent the quantities of arms remaining on hand at the end of the war from falling into the hands of the less civilized peoples. It provides for an international office to control the trade in arms. The committee proposes that this body be used in a more general way to exercise control over the private manufacture of arms.

Great Britain's Position.
Mr. Fisher, in discussing the recommendation in the report regarding the checking of the growth of armaments, said he had no doubt of the acceptance by Great Britain of the proposal to spend no more on armaments for the next two years than she did last year.

"Disarmament," said George Nicoll Barnes, of the British delegation, who followed Mr. Fisher, "is the real acid test of the success of the league of nations."

"I regret," he added, "that there is in the report no clear cut declaration that there is not less a decline and more peace."

United News Staff Correspondent.
Lucerne, December 14.—A little group of townsfolk, some curiosity seekers, and the usual gathering of street urchins, watched a family of tourists climb upon a big hotel bus and depart for the Lucerne station with the customary waving of hands and salutes of the manager and staff of the hostelry.

The tourists were Constantine, king of Greece, the queen, the Princesses Helen, Irene and Catherine and Prince Paul, on the first stage of their trip back to the royal palaces.

One Touch of Sadness.
Before he left, Constantine strolled to the telegraph office from which he dispatched a message of thanks to President Motta, of Switzerland, for the asylum offered him by that country during his exile. There was but one touch of sadness to this leave-taking, however. That was when Tino said good-bye to his two most faithful officers—Professor Streit and General Pappagopoulos, both of whom accompanied the king and his family to the station, where there was much patting kissing of hands and hurried last-minute advice to be given.

To the ordinary southbound train, Constantine had succeeded in persuading the railway officials to add one special car—not a pretentious coach, but sufficiently large to ensure some privacy for the royal party, and obviating the necessity of jamming into the other cars with strangers.

The king looked forward to his voyage from Venice to Corfu with some misgivings.

"I'm a rotten sailor," he said. "I expect to be seasick. And that is one reason why we planned the stopover for a few hours at Corfu."

Constantine plans to reach Athens Sunday.

U. S. Citizen Aids Constantine.
One of the guiding powers behind King Constantine when he remounts the throne may be an American citizen, Constantine Casanges, reputed to be well known in New York, Washington, Indianapolis and Louisville.

Once a subject of the Sultan of Turkey, later an American citizen and now a resident of Greece, Casanges' career has been more or less intimately linked with Constantine's fate. That he is now accepted in the throne councils is indicated by the fact that he has been here in conference with Constantine for the past week and is accompanying the royal party on its triumphant return to Athens.

Previous to his emigrating to the United States, Casanges was a native of Thrace, under Turkish rule. When he secured his naturalization papers in America he renounced allegiance to the sultan. Before the war, however, he returned to Greece and was elected a member of the Greek chamber of deputies. After Constantine's abdication, he, together with other Constantinists, refused to serve in the Venizelos parliament.

Subsequently, he was imprisoned for fifty days, and thereupon took refuge in his American citizenship, and was released upon intervention of the American consul. Today he appears to be either an American or Greek citizen, according to his desires.

According to members of the king's party, Casanges, while in the United States, developed a close friendship with the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

WIFE OF CASANGES TELLS HIS STORY.
Washington, December 14.—Dispatches to the United News from Lucerne, stating that Constantine Casanges may be the guiding power behind King Constantine when he reassumes the throne of Greece, brought joy to a little household here.

Casanges, an American citizen, has been in Greece for seven years, and his wife and son and daughter, now here, have not heard from him during much of that time. Also, there is a grandson whom Casanges has not seen. He, too, answers to the name of Constantine.

Casanges came to America for 30 years, according to the story his wife told Tuesday, as she told the young Constantine on her knees.

The romance that began between the young Greek to America dates back to his student days in Leipzig. There he met an American girl, Miss Ann Gaff, of Cincinnati, also a student. She returned. He followed, and they were married.

Casanges became an American citizen. After the Balkan war Greeks in America chose him to go to London to help settle boundary disputes with the Turks.

His home land was freed, and he was chosen to be its first representative in parliament, although an American citizen. He was an independent, or radical, and swung over to the support of Constantine in opposition to Venizelos.

"Oh, I hope it's true," said Mrs. Casanges. "It is time he is rewarded for all he has suffered. And the long years of waiting have been so hard. We could not go to him, and he could not come back to us. Perhaps now we can all go to Greece, or he can come back to us."

The daughter, Margaret, was married to St. Clair Jones, a poet, and one time secretary to Senator New of Indiana. A son of Casanges is attending Georgetown university here.

ASSASSINS REPORTED AFTER CONSTANTINE.
Paris, December 14.—Two Greeks carrying passports for Lucerne and in possession of bombs, have been arrested at Milan, says a dispatch to The Matin. It is believed in the Italian city, the dispatch says, the men had plotted to attempt to assassinate former King Constantine of Greece.

Constantine will not remain long on the throne of Greece, says Geneva dispatches to newspapers of this city. The correspondents declare they obtained this information from "a personage closely connected with Constantine." He is quoted as saying that after a brief interval Constantine will abdicate in favor of Prince George, duke of Sparta.

In taking this course Constantine, it is asserted, will give the impression that he is acting in accordance with his own wishes and not according to those of the allies. This decision was reached upon representations from Demetrios Rhalis, the Greek premier, who is said to have pointed out that the remainder of the four years in prison at Athens for conspiracy to destroy American property by means of bomb outrages.

"I cannot hope to correct all the misstatements in reference to this case which have gone the rounds of the press, but the story in The Post is so conspicuously displayed and makes such confident assertion of the facts that I think some effort should be made to correct the false impression which it creates."

"Von Kintelen was not pardoned by the president, and neither was any portion of his term of imprisonment remitted. He served not only the entire term of imprisonment to which he was sentenced, but in addition thereto more than the 20 days usually assessed for non-payment of fine. On the records at the Atlanta penitentiary he did not get proper credit for seven months' imprisonment in other institutions, and therefore the warden at Atlanta was powerless to release him, although he had actually served his time."

To meet this peculiar situation the most practicable method seemed to be for the president to commute his sentence to expire at once so that he might be released and thus have the benefit accrue from the fact that he had actually served the full period for which he was sentenced.

The New York world has carried a special article dealing with the commutation of the sentence.

NO PARDON GRANTED FRANZ VON RINTELEN

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY.

Washington, December 14.—(Special).—The commutation of sentence of Franz von Rintelen at the Atlanta penitentiary has caused wide comment and it became necessary today for Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer to write a letter to the editor of a Washington newspaper. The attorney general said: "An article on the editorial page of Sunday's Post refers to Franz von Rintelen as one 'whom President Wilson has restored to liberty by means of a pardon remitting the remainder of the four years in prison at Atlanta for conspiracy to destroy American property by means of bomb outrages."

GERMAN CABLES WORRY POWERS

No Agreement on Principles, But Modus Vivendi Until Next March—Britain, France and Japan Hold Cables.

Washington, December 14.—Sessions of the international communications conference, threatened by disruption several days ago over failure to agree on disposition of the former German cables, will continue under a modus vivendi, adopted today at a plenary session.

Representatives of France, Great Britain and Japan, in the meantime, will return home to confer with their governments relative to the primary questions at issue, none of which had been settled at the sessions which began here October 8. The ambassadors of the three nations will continue the negotiations as substitutes for the specially appointed delegates.

The Modus Vivendi.
The modus vivendi as drawn up at today's session and made public by the state department tonight, further provides:

cables seized by Great Britain, France and Japan during the war, "shall be operated as at present, but for the financial account of the five powers (Great Britain, France, Japan, Italy and the United States), provided, however, that in accounting for such operation the income, after deducting operating expenses, shall be apportioned in accordance with the final disposition to be made of such cables."

That should a final agreement as to disposition of the cables not be reached by next February 15, the conference shall immediately arrange for a new modus vivendi to become effective on or before next March 15.

Concessions making possible today's provisional agreement were understood to have resulted in a large part from pressure brought to bear in the conference by Acting Secretary of State Davis, who last week obtained from the senate foreign relations committee, assurances of support for the American delegates' contentions. The American and Italian delegations were understood to have objected to any adjournment of the conference without some sort of an agreement, basing their objections, as stated on the postscript to the other three powers already in possession of the disputed cables, might preclude indefinitely the reconvening of the negotiations.

Formal Statement Made.
Announcement of the provisional agreement reached by the conference was made in the following formal statement:

"The delegates to the preliminary conference on communications have today reached unanimous agreement in regard to certain important aspects relative to the general question of the disposition of the ex-German cables. While agreement has not been arrived at for the definite disposition of the cables, important principles were established to guide the conference in its continued consideration of and dealing with same. There has been a recognition, on the part of all the delegations, of the necessity of accommodating themselves as much as possible to the views and rights of other countries. While it is difficult in some cases to eliminate all differences, there appears a general recognition of the necessity and expediency of working out an equitable and practicable solution of the problem.

"Some of the delegates felt that agreement of unsettled questions could be expedited if an opportunity was afforded for personal consultation with their governments. In order, however, that any possible delay might not prejudice the powers which at present have no part in the operations of the cables, it was recognized that some modus vivendi should be agreed upon which would outline the conditions under which the conference should continue and under which the cables should be operated.

Text of Resolution.
With this idea in mind the following resolution was adopted: "It is the consensus of opinion of all the delegations that it is most necessary both from the standpoint of expediency and justice, that a definite agreement be reached for terminating at a very early date the present status of the ex-German cables and for an equitable distribution of ownership and operation thereof. In view of the fact that some of the delegates consider it necessary to consult their governments it is agreed that the technical work of the conference shall be temporarily adjourned. It is agreed, however, that the conference shall continue its deliberations regarding the division and operation of the ex-German cables and that the delegates will recommend to their respective governments that the ambassadors of the respective countries shall as far as possible temporarily substitute those delegates who return to consult in person with their governments.

"On and after January 1, 1921, and pending termination of the present status of operations under the protocol of May 3, 1919, the various ex-German cables shall be operated as at present, but for the financial account of the five powers, provided, however, that in accounting for such operation the income, after deducting operating expenses, shall be apportioned in accordance with the final disposition to be made of such cables.

"It is fundamentally agreed that the delegates will recommend at once to their respective governments that if an agreement is not reached by February 15, next, for the final disposition of the cables, the conference will immediately proceed to arrange an agreement for a new modus vivendi, to become operative on or before March 15, 1921.

"It is understood that the delegates will obtain and report at the earliest possible date the decisions of their governments on such recommendations."

The Island of Yap.
Disposition of the Island of Yap, center of cable communications in the Pacific, for which it has been suggested Japan be given the mandate as well as the settlement of principle insisted on the United States of landing rights upon the island of cables of oil countries, were questions which were left unsettled by the conference. It was settled today that the eventual disposition of Yap might be arrived at only by a settlement entirely independent of the communications conference and after an examination of the status of Japan's title.

The principal other bone of contention which prevented a settlement at this time of the disposition of the former German cables was the refusal of the French delegates to admit claims of Italy or the United States to the German trans-Atlantic cable held by France, connecting New York with Brest. This, the United States and Italy desire to employ as a direct means of communication between the United States and Italy by the diversion of its eastern end of Genoa.

AFTER PLEADING GUILTY TO THEFT NEGRO IS FREED

Although he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of stealing an automobile lap robe, Eugene Evans, a negro, was given his freedom after his trial in the city court Tuesday morning before Judge Andy Calhoun, when it was proved that another negro, Jack Reed, had stolen the robe.

When Evans was asked if he were guilty he stated he was, but after his attorney, Ernest Bentley, explained the meaning of what he had said to him, Evans told a different story, but not before Judge Calhoun had sentenced him to pay $50 or serve eight months on the chain-gang. Evans then told the court that he had not stolen the robe, but that it was given to him by another negro, Jack Reed.

Reed was arrested and brought before the court, confessed that he had taken the robe and was given the sentence which Evans had drawn. Evans was given his freedom.

WEST END GETTING BETTER GAS NOW, SAYS ASSOCIATION

The West End Public Service Association has written a letter to P. S. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway and Power company, expressing satisfaction and appreciation of improved gas service in this section of the city. A mass meeting of West End citizens, which had been set for December 16, has been deferred on account of this improvement, states the letter.

The letter is as follows: "Dear Sir—The undersigned, representing the West End Public Service Association and the citizens at large of West End, desire to express our satisfaction in the improvement of service and quality of gas manifested within the past few days, and in appreciation of this improved condition the mass meeting which was to be held at Lucile Avenue school Thursday, December 16, as well as all other contemplated action, has been deferred for such time as this improved condition may continue or until such time as to this association and the citizens at large may deem proper. Very truly yours,

WEST END PUBLIC SERVICE ASSOCIATION,
"C. H. BURGE, President."
Atlanta, Ga., December 14, 1920."

Stammering Classes Will Be Organized For School Children

A lecture and demonstration for the benefit of stammering school children of Atlanta will be given at the Boys' High school at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon by O. H. Ennis, of Los Angeles, Cal.

W. F. Dykes, superintendent of the public schools, has sent notices of the lecture to school children and their parents, in an effort to secure as large an attendance as possible. The lecture Thursday will be free, Mr. Ennis states. Afterward, however, he will organize classes in a ten-lesson course for the correction of stammering and a fee will be charged.

Mr. Ennis is considered an authority upon the subject of stammering, and has been highly commended for his work.

LATER DATE ASKED FOR THE HEARING ON ALBANY RATES

A request for a continuance of the hearing of the Georgia-Alabama Power company for increased electric rates for the city of Albany was presented to Chairman C. Murphy Candler and John T. Boileau, of the railroad commission, Tuesday by Henry A. Tarver.

The case has been set by the commission for hearing on December 22, and Mr. Tarver, representing the citizens of Albany opposing the increase, stated this date is inconvenient to the merchants and lawyers on account of the holiday business season and in conflict with engagements in the federal court.

The request will be considered by the commission on December 21, when it meets in executive session.

YAARAB NOBLES MEET TONIGHT

Re-Election of Principal Officers and Report on Widows' Fund Progress Will Be Main Features.

The nobility of Yaarab temple will meet in annual session tonight at 8 o'clock to elect officers for the ensuing year, listen to the report of the finance committee and transact routine business incident to Shrine affairs. Little change will be made in the principal officers, but four representatives to the imperial council will be chosen, Past Potentate Forrest Adair now being a life member.

One of the features of the meeting which will interest all will be the report of progress on the formation of the "widows' fund." This plan of mutual insurance, which is in successful operation in nearly half of the Shrine bodies of the United States, is immensely popular, and it is known that Yaarab temple has lost several hundred members by demits because it was not in operation here. Recorder Argard is quite hopeful that the charter membership of 300 will be completed at the meeting tonight, and then certificates will be issued.

Potentate Heinz has set Tuesday, January 25, as the date of the next ceremonial, applications for which must be in Recorder Argard's hands by January 10, accompanied by check for $112.

The committee in charge of the big Shrine Christmas dance, to be held at Druid Hills club Wednesday night, December 22, reports that all arrangements have been completed, and that the affair will eclipse any social event ever held by Yaarab temple. Nobles will wear evening dress and tuxedos, and be required to show their 1920 cards at the door. All members of Yaarab temple and sojourning nobles are invited with their ladies, and the committee is planning on a crowd of fully 1,500.

Kiwanis Officials For Ensuing Year Put in Nomination

Robert S. Wessells, Kiwanis governor for the district of Georgia, and for the past year a vice president of the Kiwanis Club of Atlanta, was nominated for the presidency of the local Kiwanis club Tuesday at its regular weekly luncheon. The nominating committee for this year consists of W. L. Peel and James Belcher.

Other nominations made by the committee were Forrest Adair, well-known real estate man, for first vice president; Rev. J. Sproule Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, for second vice president, and Arthur Brooke, sales manager for T. H. Brooke company, for treasurer. Mr. Brooke attempted to decline the nomination, but was ruled out of order by President George Eubanks. Secretary Reynolds was instructed to prepare ballots and a vote of the membership will be taken at an early meeting of the club.

Rival candidates were placed in nomination by various members of the club. Walter C. Barnwell and John O. DuPuy were nominated for the presidency, and Robert Barke Dale's name was offered for treasurer. Robert H. Jones, Jr., was nominated for second vice president. Charles J. Haden, well-known Atlanta cotton factor, was the principal speaker, his subject being "Cotton and Credits." He pointed out the wonderful power of cotton as collateral, and explained a new plan of cotton credits which he outlined last week at the annual meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men. His plan is to extend credits to the farmer for one-year periods, and have notes made payable in equal quarterly installments.

CLAIMS OF TYPOTHETAE DECLARED MISLEADING

Federation Trying to Go Back Upon 1919 Agreement, It Is Claimed.

Charging that published claims of the Southeastern Typothetae federation are misleading and that the federation is merely trying to go back on its 1919 agreement to put the 44-hour week into effect in commercial printing shop in 1919, J. J. Freil, chairman of the labor group of the international joint conference council, in session here Tuesday, supplied The Constitution with resolutions of the council referring to this matter.

Mr. Freil declared that employers as well as printers are represented at the council and that the claim of the federation that only printers are members is in error. The resolution adopted Tuesday by the council reads: "Whereas, there appeared in The Atlanta Constitution of December 14, 1920, an advertisement headed 'The Public and Printing,' which stated in its first paragraph that 'the heads of the several unions allied to the printing industry are in Atlanta, ostensibly for the purpose of inaugurating in this section a 44-hour work week instead of the present 48-hour week,' and whereas, at the time this advertisement appeared there was being held in Atlanta, at the expressed invitation of a group of employing printers of this city, a meeting of the international joint conference council composed of representatives of both employers and employees connected with the following organizations: the United Typothetae of America, the Printers' League of America, and the International Association of Employing Electrotypers for the employers' group, and representatives of four organizations of labor in the printing industry, namely, the International Typographical union, the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' union, the International Stereotypers' and Electrotypers' union, and the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this joint conference council deplores the fact that an advertisement of this character was published at a time when a meeting was being held in the city, which meeting was composed of employers as well as employees who are connected with the organized section of the commercial and periodical branches of the printing industry, both of whom are vitally interested in the success of that industry. The second resolution reviews the methods of arbitrating differences between printers and employers by means of a joint conference, the adoption in 1919 of the council's recommendations for a 44-hour week and declared that it considers all its member bodies morally bound to put it into effect on May 1, 1921.

Wedding of Artist Marks the Opening Day at the Howard

Opening day at the Howard theater will long be remembered by Tom Standerling, an Englishman, and one of the six first violins of the orchestra. Just seventy-five minutes before Standerling's bride joined in the Howard's premier overture Monday, the girl he had left behind him in Nottingham arrived at the Peachtree station via an Atlantic steamship and a New York train, and the marriage followed as soon as the preacher could be reached. The bride, who was Miss Mable Hammond, was due to arrive in Atlanta Sunday, but owing to delays in the voyage she was unable to appear at the time originally set for the wedding.

When the time of the bride-to-be's arrival was learned, plans were arranged to carry out the delayed ceremony immediately. Miss Hammond was met at the station by the wedding party.

SCHULZ IS HONORED AT FAREWELL DINNER

A banquet given in honor of Dr. C. G. Schulz, district vocational officer of the federal board for vocational education, was held Monday night in the banquet hall of the chamber of commerce building. Dr. Schulz has been transferred to the Chicago office of the federal board, and the banquet was tendered him as a farewell token of appreciation and esteem by members of the southeastern division and to welcome Mr. Bryson, the new district vocational officer, who comes to this office from New York.

Speakers of the evening included Dr. C. S. Morrison, M. Bryson, Dr. T. G. Schulz, Wayne Allen, J. C. Wardlaw and R. H. White, of the federal board, and Dr. George S. Fletcher, which meeting was composed of employers as well as employees who are connected with the organized section of the commercial and periodical branches of the printing industry, both of whom are vitally in-

DIVIDEND IS DECLARED BY ATLANTA TRUST CO.

A semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent, amounting to $20,000, has been declared by the board of trustees of the Atlanta Trust company. The dividend will be payable January 1, in commutation on the action of the board F. S. Etheridge, president of the Atlanta Trust company, said that he considered the fact that the company was, during this period of readjustment, in a position to declare a dividend, an indication of an early return to normal conditions.

JUDGE COBB PUT ON THE GEORGIA WELFARE BOARD

Judge Andrew Cobb, who recently resigned as judge of the western judicial circuit, has been appointed by Governor Hugh M. Dorsey as a member of the board of public welfare, succeeding J. I. Kelley, of Lawrenceville, whose term expired October 1, 1920.

In accepting the appointment, Judge Cobb issued the following statement Tuesday:

"The state board of public welfare is approaching the second year of its work. Even a casual examination of its first annual report will show the importance of its work, as

BIG CUT FORECAST IN CASH FOR ARMY

Congress Likely to Grant
Only $300,000,000 of the $700,000,000 Asked by Baker—Camps May Be Abandoned.

Washington, December 14.—Sharp conflicts between congress and the war department over the amount of money to be appropriated this year for the military establishment developed today at the initial meeting of the house subcommittee to draft the 1922 army appropriation bill. Representative Anthony, of Kansas, chairman of the subcommittee, predicted that the army appropriation for the coming fiscal year would be cut approximately to $300,000,000. He said this restriction would be the size of the army to 175,000 enlisted men, abandonment of half of the camps maintained by the war department, and immediate sale of the army's surplus supplies.

Secretary Baker, Major General March, chief of staff, appearing before the committee, urged the appropriation of $700,000,000 for army expenses. The war department was allowed $322,000,000 for the present year.

Big Deficit for Present Year.
Secretary Baker said that the war department would incur a deficit of $60,000,000 during the present year. He said that the $322,000,000 will be needed for the pay of enlisted men. Chairman Anthony, however, said members of the committee were convinced the war department's deficiency would total at least $100,000,000.

The war department secretary was asked to submit a report showing what camps were being maintained and for what purpose they were being used.

"We must close at least half of our camps, particularly those located in more remote districts which cannot be kept up cheaply," said Mr. Anthony. "It has been shown that it cost much more to maintain troops on the Mexican border than at centralized posts. The committee, for the sake of economy, intends to provide for the withdrawal of many of the troops now on the border."

Another policy of the committee, Mr. Anthony indicated, would be to provide for the full strength maintenance of only two divisions instead of nine as the war department favors. The remaining divisions would be maintained in skeletonized form and would be increased to full strength in emergencies, under Mr. Anthony's plan.

To Sell Reserve Motor Trucks.
Immediate sale of between 30,000 and 40,000 motor trucks now held in reserve was said by Representative Anthony to be favored by the committee.

Secretary Baker was questioned particularly as to the present size of the army and in reply said it consisted of approximately 216,000 enlisted men and 14,000 officers.

Members of the house military committee have charged the war department with breaking faith with congress in reducing more than the 180,000 men for which provision was made in the army appropriation bill.

"This year," said Representative Anthony, "we will appropriate for an army of not more than 175,000 men and in addition will put a mandatory provision in the appropriation bill that the war department is not to exceed that number."

Stork Too Active
In Bland Family
For Congressman

Rep. Small Annuls Agreement to Present Suit of Clothes for Each Arrival at Bland Home—Fourteenth Suit Is Due.

Washington, N.C., December 14.—For many years Representative Small, of North Carolina, has, by agreement, been presenting to R. C. Bland, a Carolina farmer, and one of his constituents, a new suit of clothes for each additional child in his family. Having presented thirteen suits, and being recently notified to send the fourteenth, Representative Small has informed Bland that the contract will be "off" with Mr. Small's retirement from congress on March 3.

Small and Bland made their compact a number of years ago, when Small was making a campaign speech at Robersonville, near here. Bland then had twenty children; he now has thirty-four.

Twenty-six of the thirty-four Bland children are living, and the present Mrs. Bland, Bland's second wife, is the mother of thirteen of whom were born during the last ten years, including one set of twins. Eighteen children, still alive at home, but Mrs. Bland declares she gets lonesome sometimes "because so many have gone away."

Mr. and Mrs. Bland recently had a group photograph taken of the family still remaining on the Bland farm. While the photographer was working, a buzzard cast his shadow on the ground. Bland was asked if he was superstitious.

"No," he said; "I'm not afraid of buzzards, but at first I thought the buzzard was a stork."

In calling the children together for the photograph, Bland simply cupped his hands and, in a stentorian voice, cried: "Children." Results were immediate. Children appeared from every direction. Some of the "children" were grown men and women; others were barely able to toddle forth, and one still was being carried in arms.

Bland says it is no more trouble to bring up fifty children than it is to raise ten.

"After you pass ten," he says, "the older ones are a big help."

The children were not unusually noisy, Bland said, although "they made considerable racket when fourteen were taken down together with hoopla-cough." The Bland grocery bill is equivalent to about $150 a week, although Bland produces a large part of his food. On one occasion he said he spent most of one night computing the cost of keeping his family comfortable, but that the figures reached such alarming proportions he gave up the job. Bland is 65 years old.

STATE CANE SYRUP PRODUCTION WILL SHOW LARGE DROP

Cane syrup production in Georgia this fall will be almost one million gallons less than last year, according to John S. Dennee, agricultural statistician in Atlanta for the United States department of agriculture, in co-operation with the Georgia department of agriculture, division of statistics.

According to the statistician, 9,897,000 gallons were produced this year as against 10,840,000 gallons last year. The crop has an estimated value of $9,106,000. The area harvested was 72,000 acres, 12,000 of which were saved for seedling next year's crop.

About 162 gallons was the average yield of syrup per acre, and the quality was good. Sundry causes are assigned for the shortage in production, the principal reason being the unusually dry September which prevented the formation of juice. Farmers complain that they are having much difficulty in marketing their product.

SHARP CRITICISM OF COAL INDUSTRY

Threat of Drastic Legislation by Congress Implied in Report by Senate Probers.

Washington, December 14.—Sharp criticism of the national coal industry, with implied threat of drastic legislation by congress to meet alleged evils of profiteering and speculation, accompanied the partial report of the senate committee on production and reconstruction, submitted to the senate today. In general the report, which asked power to allow the committee to continue its investigation, suggested government activities to bring about co-operation under regulation in building construction, but its three republication members, Senators Calder, of New York; Edge, of New Jersey, and Kenyon, of Iowa, supplemented their finding with additional statements, all of which agreed in asking special legislative attention to present methods of producing and distributing coal.

These, Chairman Calder said, "must be corrected," while Senator Kenyon declared that "if the matter is to go on, I for one, harsh as the remedy may be, shall favor taking over the mines." Senator Edge expressed his conclusion that "the coal industry cannot bring order out of the prevailing chaos, and give even reasonable relief to the suffering people, so I am ready to modify somewhat, in this case, my opposition to government intrusion into private business and to advocate legitimate scrutiny."

Coal Profiteering Continues.
"Coal profiteering, especially as it has followed the priority orders of the interstate commerce commission, has continued unchecked by the department of justice and is a national disgrace," the committee said in its joint report. "Coal speculation has been permitted to monopolize the transportation facilities of the country, retarding necessary construction and increasing the basic cost of manufacture and distribution of commodities in general. It has hindered the home owners, public utilities and industries."

"Our investigation into the coal situation has convinced us that the private interests now in control of the production and distribution of coal, in spite of the efforts by some, are actually unable to prevent a continuance or repetition of the present deplorable situation, and that it is the duty of the government to take such reasonable and practical steps as it may to remedy the evil."

Government administration of the production and distribution of coal, the committee said, "should be a last resort," but for the present it was recommended that operators, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers in the industry be required to file full and frequent reports with a federal agency. These reports should show, the committee concluded, "total tonnage produced or handled, size and quality thereof, amount of tonnage contracted for, sold on contract and at spot sale, to whom, and the prices made and received under contracts or sales." The report should be sufficient "to determine costs and profits and the corporate interrelations of the communities of interest, if any, between companies producing and distributing coal."

In other fields, the committee said, "there exists a serious shortage of housing, not only in the great cities, but in smaller cities, as well, even in the far west and south," which it held to have deleterious effect upon public health, moral and industrial growth. Labor conditions also were discussed by the committee.

Grafting by Labor Leaders.
"The misdirection and exploitation of some groups of organized labor, through grafting leadership, has been revealed in New York city and has been reported in some other large cities," the report said. "This has spread to combinations of employers, who, working together with such grafting labor leaders have combined to force unduly high prices. The department of justice is urged to prosecute the wrongdoers whenever they are found to have violated the federal statutes."

Establishment of more trade schools by cities and states to train apprentices for the building trades, was recommended as was the creation of a federal bureau to assist in framing building codes which would secure public interests and at the same time lower costs.

Financing building investment the committee said, should be aided in several ways, suggesting lowering of excess profits and surtaxes and tax exemption for real estate mortgages, a modification of the federal reserve act, to permit member banks to invest in long time mortgages, and the committee said it endorsed the principle of "the home loan bank bill, which is designed to facilitate a wider distribution of real estate mortgages through standard bond issues."

Popular saving and thrift, it was concluded, would be aided by consolidating under the postoffice department all federal thrift activities and by amending the postal savings law "to provide adequate interest for depositors."

Caldwell Defends His Plans to Build Stores in West End
A letter defending his proposal to erect business buildings on a site between the corner of Gordon and Peoples streets, in West End, which has caused a storm of protest from residents of that community, has been received by The Constitution from R. H. Caldwell, Jr.

His property fronts on Gordon street, West End's most exclusive residential thoroughfare. A number of Gordon street citizens recently met and took the position that the erection of business buildings in the residence section would be detrimental to property values.

The committee also agreed to take the site off Mr. Caldwell's hands at $18,000. In his letter Mr. Caldwell maintains that Gordon street, in the neighborhood of Howell park, where his property is located, should be a business street. He pictures Howell park 10 years hence as being "aglow with wonderful brilliancy, beautiful electric signs, flashing cigarette and shirt advertisements, moving pictures, hotels, drug stores, flower shops and other industrial enterprises." He points out that more than 20,000 persons reside in a radius of less than one mile of the park.

OFFICER REPRIMANDED BY THE POLICE BOARD

Requests for leaves of absence and the trial of one officer were the principal matters before the board of police commissioners, who held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in the commissioners' room at headquarters.

Patrolman J. C. Simmons was ordered reprimanded by the board for alleged mistreatment of a man he arrested in the Grand building under a drunk and disorderly conduct charge.

Sergeant W. N. Sheridan and Patrolman E. E. Kline were granted sixty days' leave of absence, and plan to leave next Saturday for St. Augustine, Miami, St. John's river points and other Florida points.

THREE ARE JAILED
WHEN AUTOMOBILE
HITS PARKED CAR

The crash of a northbound auto into the machine of Sumner Hill, parked in front of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, on Peachtree street Tuesday night, resulted in the arrest of two men and a woman, and the discovery of the theft of an automobile.

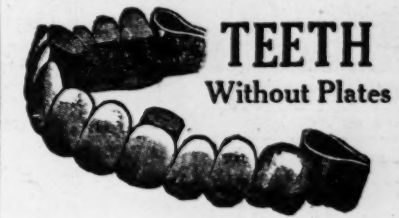

Those arrested were H. I. Sanders, 35 years old, of 122 Curran street, Ed Wingard, 41, of Inman yards, and Miss Margaret Small, 21 years old, who gave her residence as a downtown hotel. Sanders and Wingard were released under $100 bonds and charges of reckless driving docketed against them. Miss Small ing and exceeding the speed limit is being held for investigation by policewomen.

Mr. Hill was attending an entertainment of the Tri Mu class of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, given by Charles Whittier, the teacher, at the church house. The party was interrupted by the noise made by the collision and investigation disclosed that Mr. Hill's car had been damaged.

Call Officers J. E. McDaniel and J. H. Davis, who happened to be in the vicinity, gave chase to the car that struck Mr. Hill's machine, capturing the trio.

Further investigation by those attending the Tri Mu meeting showed that the automobile of Hugh Hayes, which had been parked in front of the church during the services, had been stolen. Up to a late hour Tuesday night no trace of the car had been found by the police.

Every seed that is planted, every hour of labor that is expended on production of raw materials represents effort to increase the resources of the world. Between production and final application to mankind's needs of the fruits of this effort there may be an interval of months.

The highest duty of credit is to finance this element of time in the processes of production and distribution.

SECURITY SHROUDS GRAND JURY PROBE

All Indictments Will Be Kept Off the Minutes. Brother of Ed Mills Appears Before Jurors.

A cloak of secrecy was dropped over the entire grand jury investigation of “wire tapping,” gambling and swindling operations in Atlanta, with an order Tuesday from Judge John D. Humphreys, of the superior court, requiring the clerk in the criminal court to keep all indictments off the minutes until ordered to put them on by the court.

The action was taken upon the request of Solicitor John A. Boykin, who indicated that the probe had just about reached its climax. The solicitor has stated repeatedly that alleged gamblers made their get-away following the indictment and arrest of others in the “gang,” and that in order to round up everybody connected with the affair indictments and even arrests will not be disclosed until the conclusion of the investigation by the grand jury. Startling developments are expected.

That the solicitor is carrying the investigation into the alleged gambling operations of the late Ed Mills was killed by Floyd Woodward at a local hotel two years ago, was one of the witnesses summoned before the grand jury. It was also learned that an effort to locate F. V. Demandel, house detective of the hotel where the killing occurred, was being made. It is known to be the belief of Solicitor Boykin that Mills' death was the result of a quarrel over the division of $25,000 taken from a gambling or wire-tapping victim.

INSPECTION TOUR OF CITY SCHOOLS TAKEN BY MAYOR

Another trip of inspection was taken Tuesday by Mayor Key and members of the board of education who visited the Davis Street school for white children and the Pittsburg school for negroes. The party found the teachers and pupils proud of the beautiful grounds of the Davis Street school, but the building is sadly in need of extensive repairs.

Conditions at the Pittsburg school he described as deplorable. He said that the sanitary conditions were bad and congestion had reached the stage where it was necessary for boys to sleep in the hallways. He said the class rooms were dingy and inadequate. He will recommend a new school for the negroes in this section. Today the group will visit other schools.

TELEPHONE AND WIRE SOCIETY ENTERTAINED

A largely attended meeting of the Telephone and Telegraph Society of Atlanta was held at Cable hall Tuesday evening.

The chief attraction was an address by E. P. Brown, president of the Southern Group of Bell Telephone companies, who told of the present status of the telephone industry and pointed out the opportunities for those who enter the business with serious purpose.

Of the musical features the solo by Miss Roberta Reeves, of the main office, the chorus composed of operators and the quartet consisting of Miss Martha Clark, Miss Mabel Whitney, J. J. McTear and Charles Carter, proved most popular.

The vaudeville features under the direction of George Bush won applause. The dancers were Miss Gladys Brinkley and Mrs. Louise Daniels. The mandolinists were Miss Nell Richards and Miss Laura Thomas. The pianist was Miss Cleve Mayfield.

The evening's entertainment was closed with a first run moving picture of the telephone industry, entitled “Winning the Race Against Demand.”

ALBERT LEVY IS GIVEN 8 MONTHS' SENTENCE

Albert Levy, whose sentence was deferred until Tuesday after a jury in Judge Andy Calhoun's court found him guilty Monday of the charge of assault and battery on a 16-year-old girl, was sentenced to eight months in the chain gang or pay a fine of $500.

The defendant was charged with conducting himself improperly towards the girl, who was his first cousin by marriage, while on an automobile trip. He defended himself when the case was called for trial.

Atlantans Will Aid In Saving Starving Children of Europe

The cry of three and a half million starving children of Europe to the people of the United States to keep them from dying of hunger and cold this winter came home to Georgia yesterday when there was formed in Atlanta the nucleus of a state organization to raise the state's share of a national fund of $2,000,000.

The committee voted unanimously to undertake a whirlwind campaign in Georgia to take care of 50,000 children as the state's quota, and to make every effort to raise the money for that purpose by Christmas.

E. Marvin Underwood, prominent Atlanta lawyer and former general counsel for the United States railroad commission, accepted the state's chairmanship. The campaign in Georgia, as throughout the rest of the nation, will be the combined charge of the American Red Cross, the American Friends service, the Jewish Joint Distribution committee, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Atlanta Baptist and the Georgia State Christian in America, with Herbert Hoover in charge of all their concerted efforts.

Each of these organizations has named representatives to act with Mr. Underwood on the Georgia state committee. They are, for the Red Cross, Eugene Black, Joseph C. Logan, Mrs. W. H. Pelletier, of Calhoun; for the Jewish committee, C. H. Kriegshaber, Rabbi David Marx, Armand Harari, of Atlanta; for the Y. M. C. A., Macdon, and Leopold Adler, Savannah; for the Y. W. C. A., Mrs. Archibald Davis, Atlanta; for the Federal Council, John J. McCallum, Atlanta, and John V. McCallum, Atlanta.

Immediate action followed the meeting of the committee. A letter to a prominent citizen in every county in the state, asking him in the name of humanity to accept the responsibility for raising his county's quota and to form a county campaign organization.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO HELP MOTHER

disappears. She realizes so keenly the sacrificed opportunities of her own life that she is striving to save her children. Added to these fears and worries are the weekly visits of the red-headed mother, who is constantly in the certainty that one of these days she will be unable to meet his demands.

The long day of labor in the factory and the night of worry on the mother's mind, the physician says that the little child will be under the strain. There must be some relief and relaxation or the child will be under a desolate and sad home without their mother.

TELEPHONE AND WIRE SOCIETY ENTERTAINED

Here is a real opportunity to have an entire family, to continue the education of five children, to have a mother's heart and reward her unlimited sacrifice for her children's future. The donation of $5 a week, for the next year, will bring a smile to this mother's face which will be a permanent Christmas for the future of five little Atlantans, will reward her sacrifice.

As the result of an exhaustive survey of the city the Associated Charities have secured a secure future for ten opportunities as the ten neediest families in Atlanta, and the Constitution wishes to secure a permanent Christmas for the year round for each.

Christmas Opportunity.

Opportunity No. 1.

Four little children, all under 8, and an invalid sister require all of the mother's time. The father died of tuberculosis two years ago, leaving a fear of the disease and a financial burden on the mother's shoulders. She now has no income, and were not for the mother's friend who found for her she would have no shelter. She is struggling along trying to keep the two oldest children in school.

Opportunity No. 2.

It's not such a bad world, thinks freckle-faced Jimmie, aged 12, a fairly godfather will surely help him out, for he wants to go to school. As things are now there are mother and baby sister who need so many things that he must work to help pay the necessities. A pension of $3 a week will help him to get his education. Needed, $144.

Opportunity No. 3.

A dear old lady and her aged brother live in a tumble-down house which is home to them. The sister, who is 75 years old, sews quilts, which find a ready sale, but her sewing she cannot earn enough to make her feeble brother comfortable.

A gift of $5 a week will give them the food and many little things they need and will relieve the sister from financial anxiety. Total, $260.

Opportunity No. 4.

It isn't easy to come home after a day in the factory, go to her mother's for the five children, cook the children's supper and wash their clothing for school next day, besides working to make the small home immaculately clean. Mrs. M. has been doing this without her complaint, for she is ambitious for her youngsters, but the strain is telling on her. Recently friends of the Associated Charities have agreed to supplement her meager wage with $15 a week.

Another $5 a week will help feed and clothe the five little ones. Total, $240.

Opportunity No. 5.

“Six months before she can work again,” says the doctor who is treating her. Six months is a long time when a woman is dependent on her own earnings. All of her teeth ached, swollen ankles and almost stone deaf—but she is cheerful and is responding to medical treatment. To speed her recovery a lot of milk and eggs will be necessary and the visits of the renting agent must be met.

Four dollars and seventy-five cents a week will make her comfortable and enable her to regain her lost strength. Total, $230.

Opportunity No. 6.

A mother who is mentally unbalanced—unreasonable and overbearing—is for this reason unable to make a home for her 12-year-old kiddle. On the other hand, kiddle is bright and wants a chance to go to school.

Three dollars and seventy-five cents a week will enable Associated Charities to place her in a good school where she can start her education while the mother is receiving medical treatment. Needed, $180.

Opportunity No. 7.

Thirteen-year-old Jessie's father works his hardest every day. But a week ago he had polio for two years, and four little girls, all of them under-nourished, need more than his maximum earnings. Jessie comes home from school and cleans the house. She was doing all the family washing in addition until our visitor found someone to do it for her. The doctors now advise a nourishing diet for mother and all four children in order to prevent tuberculosis.

Three dollars and seventy-five cents a week will make this possible. Total for the year, $180.

Opportunity No. 8.

Three husky boys, 12-10-5, an invalid father and aged grandmother sweep this mother's fingers working busily every day. If only she can keep things going a few years she says, her boys will see their education and that's the brightest hope in her life.

In the meantime the little mother's strategy is too much for her strength. The house rent falls due so regularly and food and clothing are almost beyond her reach. Mrs. M. says she will give the boys good food, will buy a few comforts for the old people and will relieve the mother's mind from strain. Needed, $290.

Opportunity No. 9.

To be hopelessly ill in the hospital and unable to care for his family of seven, seems hard to a man who has always made a splendid work record. He cannot even see the little crippled girl who has just learned to walk.

The oldest boy, not yet 15, has gone to work, and his wages, together with the help of relatives, are in straitened circumstances themselves, is insufficient. An additional $7 weekly will be needed to take care of the family. Total, $326.

Opportunity No. 10.

Being the oldest of five has advantages and disadvantages. Upon John, 19, and Lulu, 15, falls the entire support of the family. John, 19, and Lulu, 15, are getting the younger children off to school and always has the simple when ready for John and Lucy when they return from work.

Even with the combined wages of these two, however, there is not enough to cover the necessities, and these two young people are getting discouraged.

The long day of labor in the factory and the night of worry on the mother's mind, the physician says that the little child will be under the strain. There must be some relief and relaxation or the child will be under a desolate and sad home without their mother.

Contributors will please make all gifts direct to the Associated Charities.

COMMITMENT HEARING IN POISON CASE TODAY

are ever sworn,” he said, “but as for the manner of my getting Mrs. Elmer into Georgia, I acted on a telegram from Attorney Durrance, which stated that she would come for any purpose.”

Judge Matthews closes Argument.

Judge Matthews closed the arguments with the statement the court realized importance of the case from a standpoint of the state and its seriousness also from a standpoint of defendants.

“I shall render my decision by recess for ten minutes, after which I will render by decision.”

After the ten minutes recess, Judge Matthews stated the purpose of the hearing was to determine as to the method of procedure. Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett reconsidered together and that the state witnesses not be required to appear for any purpose.

prolonged wrangle over this latter phase of procedure ensued, in which the solicitor fought stubbornly every concession asked. He declared that his only reason for not wishing to produce witnesses was the fact that his case had been built on affidavits and that time and money would be saved by their use in lieu of witnesses.

Not Actually on Trial.

Solicitor Garrett emphasized the point that the defendants were not appearing for trial, but merely to establish the existence or non-existence of sufficient evidence to warrant holding them for trial before a grand jury. The whole effort of the prosecution went to show that the preliminary hearing is not of sufficient importance and consequence to demand the presence of witnesses.

Lawyers for the defense unmercifully and acidly scored Solicitor Garrett for his haste and inappropriety in handling the case. Their cutting and vitriolic thrusts at 10 o'clock threw the court into a cold sweat, and the part of spectators. Judge Ross centered its attack upon the proposition that the state under false pretenses brought out the fact that the verdict of the coroner's jury, which met on November 27, was not filed until December 13, and that it did not even so much as charge felonious homicide. He further charged that his clients had been arrested upon warrants sworn out by an irresponsible constable with passion. Judge Ross accused the solicitor general of having enticed Mrs. Elmer into the state under false pretenses.

HAS HARD	On Walter Camp's All-Star	RE-ELECT
SCHEDULE	Eleven; Given End Position	J. KNOX

At the annual banquet given in honor of the Oglethorpe university football team at the Capital City Club last night, Johnny Knox, 1920 captain of the Petrels squad, was re-elected to that post for next season and will again steer the destinies of the plucky little eleven.

Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of the university, presided as toastmaster, calling upon the coaches, friends and newspaper men for short addresses. Letters were presented to 20 members of the "varisty" squad. The banquet was one of the most successful ever given in Atlanta. Last night was spent by the coaches. Prior to the feast, the party was entertained at the Howard theater by a troupe of new vaudeville players. The banquet hall of the Capital City club was attractively arranged for the occasion. A football field, two pretty little girls dressed in gridiron togs, dancing as a part of the program.

'JACKS'

BY WALLACE GEORGE.

With the Catholic university added to the list of opponents lined up for the Tech basketball five this coming season, Manager T. B. Ames announced the completed list of dates for the winter season. This latest game outlines the big eastern trip exactly and in addition to the Catholics, Tech meets the quintets of V. M. I., Georgetown and V. P. I. There remain but one open date now, Saturday, the 15th of January, and Daddy Ames has hopes of making arrangements for a game on the Auditorium floor on that night. There was a possibility, too, that the Jackets might line up a game for the 25th of February, but it was stated yesterday that this was to be definitely left open. The Auditorium floor is to be reserved that night for another game and the Tech men will not be able to play out of town since they have to make

S. I. A. A. Dates.
The dates of the S. I. A. A. meet were fixed for March 2, 3, 4, and 5. It is probable that the S. I. A. A. auditorium, Tech has scheduled the Atlanta Athletic club for the last night of the meet. The S. I. A. A. is contemplating entering the tournament. It may be barely possible that the game with the A. A. C. can be played on the last night of the meet, but a date or again some other date may be fixed for it.

The basketballs have been hitting things up at a pretty stiff pace of late and the practices both at the Marist court and out on Grant field are progressing very well. After next week the squad will be cut and the work confined to Marist alone. A posted Saturday evening, comprising the squad at present and a bit into the final will mean the crew to an even score of names.

 January 15—Open.
 January 21—Furman in Atlanta.
 January 25—Auburn in Atlanta.

for burial. Several members of the Notre Dame football team will attend the funeral.

Glipp, whose splendid playing won him country-wide recognition, and made him a choice for a position on an all-American eleven, had been ill since the Notre Dame-Northwestern game on November 20.

Pneumonia also helped weaken the athlete. Specialists called in at Chicago succeeded in ridding his system of pneumonia, however, but Glipp did not have the stamina left to guard off the poison resulting from throat

During the final hours of his fight for life, Gipp was rational and was said to show remarkable grit as he gradually grew weaker, refusing to give in to the inevitable. His mother, brother and sister were at the bedside when he died.

Gipp first jumped into the spotlight as an unusual football player when Notre Dame clashed with the Army in 1918, when he kicked, forward passing, field running and generalship won the plaudits of the nation's football fans.

One ray of happiness was brought into the athlete's few remaining hours when he was informed that he had been selected as a player on a professional all-American eleven. During his illness he also was informed that he had been offered a contract by the Chicago National League Baseball club. Gipp's ability as a baseball player was on a par with that in football.

was in Laurium, Mich., his home town. He was a law student at Notre Dame, being a law student. The body probably will be taken to Laurium for burial. No funeral arrangements have been made.

THE CONSTITUTION'S FINANCIAL NEWS AND REVIEWS

Calm Market Surprises; Gossip of Wall Street

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, December 14.—There was an irregular opening of the stock market, with more shares up than down. Wall street, as a whole, after yesterday's weak closing, was looking for a continuation of the violent liquidation. When the downward swing was not resumed at the opening, prices started to advance, the recovery running a point or more. Then professional floor traders, who are bearish to the man, jumped on the market and brought about a decline; but trading on the downward swing got very dull, after which there was another sharp upward movement. From the way the market acted it appeared that a further recovery is due to correct oversold technical conditions. At the close rails were up from 1 to 4 points from yesterday low, while industrials showed gains of from 1 to 6 points.

As far as fundamentals are concerned, however, that has been no change to account for the sudden withdrawal of selling pressure. The day's budget of news contained the usual announcements of small bank failures, further reductions in prices of commodities and wage reductions. From up state came a dispatch that, following the example of the New England textile mills, the Harmony mills, employing 3,000 men, had posted a reduction of 22½ per cent in wages, to become effective at once. From Youngstown rumors were received that the independent steel manufacturers were about to make a 15 per cent reduction in wages.

Not in Keeping With Drop.

Such a reduction, however, would not even scratch the surface if the reduction in wages is to keep pace with the falling off in the prices of commodities. As late as January 29 of this year the steel corporation announced a 10 per cent increase in wages, making the ninth since 1915, and making the total increase 144 per cent.

But to return to the stock market: Realizing from the day-to-day news that trade reaction is ahead, the average trader who is short is declaring that he will let his profits run into next year, so that he will not have to divide them in 1921 with the government. However, he did some running to cover today.

Very Different Opening.

Today's opening of the stock market was a very different affair from that of yesterday. Yesterday brokers' offices were crowded to watch the excited opening with prices down from 1 to 3 points. Today with a very mild opening the same offices were deserted. One explanation is that every night since last Thursday up to last night urgent calls had been sent out for margins. In yesterday's decline many of the traders who hang on like grim death after a decline of 10 or 20 points were cleaned out. Hence the small attendance this morning. Another reason for the quiet opening was that the out-of-town wires were working badly, only two west of Pittsburgh being in commission early in the day. Still another explanation was that yesterday was the last day when stocks could be sold to raise money for tomorrow's tax purposes.

In discussing the calls that have been sent out for margins during the past week, the head of one large stock exchange house with wires running to many large western cities, said: "The seasoned trader figures that when his idea of the stock market movement turns out to be wrong, the first loss is the easiest to take. But it is the hardest thing in the world to make the average trader take a loss of 2 or 3 points. He does not seem to have the courage. That is why he holds on, and usually goes out at the bottom after putting up and putting up more margins."

Rail Earnings Statement.

Today's statement of railway earnings for the month of October show $617,000,000 for the carriers as a whole, against only $489,000,000 for the same month last year. For the ten months gross was $4,888,888,000, compared with $4,131,000,000 for the first ten months of last year. Net income for October, the item Wall street is watching, was $82,000,000, against $72,000,000 last year and $79,000,000 for September of this year. For the ten months bare operating expenses were not earned by $66,000,000, against net income last year of $452,000,000. Thus, net income for October shows a decided improvement over the figures for the ten months, and an improvement over September of this year. This improvement increases when it is found that the percentage of operating expenses to gross was only 82.1 for October, against 94.8 for the ten months of the year. However, for October of last year the operating ratio was only 79.8, which in itself was high. To earn 6 per cent on property account of the carriers as a whole, net income for October should have been $112,000,000. Thus, while the movement of the operating ratio is in the right direction, much more ground must be covered in developing operating efficiency. To show 6 per cent on property account for November net income must be $97,598,000; for December, $87,113,000.

Loans at Low Levels.

According to figures published today, the loans of Wall street stock exchange houses are the lowest since the low level of the year, $700,000,000. This compares with $1,750,000,000 in July of 1919, when the peak was made.

Wall street was greatly interested in the decision of the supreme court ordering David Lamar to serve the rest of his sentence at the Atlanta prison on the charge of conspiring to prevent shipments of war supplies to the allies. According to reports heard today, Lamar has cleaned up $2,000,000 on the short side of the stock market during the past few weeks. Huge profits have been made by others on the short side.

To Clean Up Ryan's Affairs.

It was rumored today that a verbal agreement had been reached and that papers would be signed within a day or two whereby the affairs of Allan A. Ryan would be cleaned up.

A partner of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. denied today the reports going the rounds that H. P. Davidson is to retire from the Morgan firm. Davidson, who was not in good health even before he started his war work, has been told by his partners to go away from the office and stay away until his health was fully regained. Davidson is believed by many to be the ablest financier today in the country. The National City bank declared its regular quarterly dividend of 4 per cent today, with 1 per cent extra, while the First National declared its regular quarterly 10 per cent, with 10 per cent extra.

Sugar.

New York, December 14.—There was renewed weakness in the market for raw sugar today and prices again made new records for the year on sales of 12,000 bags of Porto Rican at 4.65 for centrifugal. Except for a further decline of 1¢ by one of the leading refiners to the basis of 8½¢ for the granulated, there were no developments in the refined market. The demand was said to be a little better, although far from normal this time of the year. Prices are now quoted from 8.25 to 8.50 for the granulated. There were further reductions in sugar for tures and active positions sold into new low ground for the movement, under scattered liquidation and selling by trade interests, with closing prices generally 4 to 7 points lower, except December, which was 5 points higher. January closed at 8.01, March, 4.88; May, 4.25; July, 4.59.

White Potatoes.

Chicago, December 14.—Potatoes dull; northern white sacked, $1.20@1.35 cwt.; Idaho russets, sacked, $1.20@1.35 cwt.

Without wasps fig trees would not produce fruit.

THE GUMPS—ONLY TEN MORE DAYS TILL XMAS

Alleged Pickpocket And Two Highwaymen Arrested by Police

Two alleged highwaymen and one alleged pickpocket operator were behind the bars at police station Tuesday night as the result of the activities of City Detectives F. M. Powers and J. L. Whitely.

The two charged with highway robbery are Ernest Bryant, 21 years, and Berry Perdue, both negroes, and both, according to Detectives Powers and Whitely, have confessed to holding up a man at 200 East Georgia avenue and another on Pulliam street within the past four days. Another negro, said to be a pal of Ernest Bryant in other robberies, is being sought by the officers.

Louis Langdon, 38 years old, whose residence was given as 98 West Peachtree street, was arrested by Detectives Powers and Whitely in connection with the alleged larceny of a pocketbook from the person of J. J. Yarbrough, of West Point, Ga., Tuesday night.

The pocketbook, containing $2 when lifted from Mr. Yarbrough's pockets. However, when found on Louis Langdon, following his arrest, according to officers, it only contained $74. Mr. Yarbrough was in Atlanta doing some Christmas shopping at the time of the loss.

ALIEN RADICALS AND IMMIGRANTS

Discussed in Report of Labor Secretary Wilson. Labor Department for Collective Bargaining.

Washington, December 14.—Establishment of machinery overseas in co-operation with foreign governments through which aliens determine whether they will be admitted to the United States and legislative consideration of the proposals of the Second Industrial Conference are outstanding recommendations in the annual report of Secretary Wilson made public today. The labor secretary devotes much of his report to discussion of immigration and the expulsion of alien revolutionaries. He asserts that he alone has authority to order the arrest and expulsion of aliens although the bureau has assumed to itself power not only to make recommendations, but also to make findings.

The report shows that 623,371 aliens arrived in this country during the last fiscal year, as compared with 237,021 the year before. Of the total arrivals 11,795 were excluded at the ports where they sought to enter. Of these arriving 430,001 are classified as immigrant aliens and 135,575 as non-immigrant aliens. Departures of aliens totaled 428,062, including 288,315 immigrant aliens and 139,747 non-immigrant aliens making the net increase in the immigrant population for the year 1920, 131,314.

11,794 Japanese Admitted.

Japanese admitted numbered 16,174, as compared with 14,804 the year before. The total number of Japanese departing is placed at 15,622, making the report says, the net increase in Japanese population 552. Of those admitted 9,193 were males and 6,981 females.

Besides the immigrants turned back at the ports of arrival, 2,762 were ordered deported during the year on departmental warrants as compared with 3,068 the year before. Of those deported on warrants 459 were classed as anarchists and criminals.

Warrants for 6,000 immigrants alleged to be revolutionaries were issued during the year. Mr. Wilson says, but a very large proportion of them were cancelled, because the charges upon which they had been issued were not sustained by lawful proof at the hearing.

In addition to the 314 anarchists deported 591 others are awaiting deportation, according to the report.

Mr. Wilson says that during the year 519,003 aliens took the initial test at the ports of arrival. While this is less than the record total of the year before, Mr. Wilson says the decrease is confined to aliens in military service and results from the demobilization of the legal alien soldiers who were filed by 300,106 aliens, while petitions for final naturalization were filed by 90,000 aliens in civil life and 51,972 soldiers.

Turning to the industrial situation, Mr. Wilson urges legislative action to carry out the recommendations of the Second Industrial Conference and a comprehensive plan for prevention of industrial disputes and a comprehensive plan for adjustment of disputes when they occur. Attention is called that during the year the labor department has been called upon to utilize its good offices in more than 4,000 industrial disputes, directly involving more than 3,125,000 workers and indirectly involving more than 3,500,000.

For Collective Bargaining.

"The department," says Mr. Wilson, "stands for collective bargaining. It recognizes collective bargaining as in the nature of 'gentleman's agreements' in contradistinction to the 'contract' method. Collective bargaining cannot be regarded in the same category as ordinary contracts, because it is not a matter of mutual consent. The employer does not agree and cannot agree to give steady employment to all the workers concerned nor to any specified number. Consequently, the workers included in such a bargain could have no legal claim except that they were actually employed by the other party to the bargain and at his discretion. There would be no fairness in making such contracts enforceable at law. To make collective bargaining to be legally enforceable would be to discourage the making of such agreements and thereby promote industrial peace."

The Class of One Hundred, which was organized at the Central Congregational church recently, has grown so rapidly that the membership limitations have been removed and the body is now known as the Class of One Hundred Plus. ### Demands of Workers For Big Christmas Gift Force Plant to Close Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, December 14.—The Opel automobile works in Rueselsheim, 12 miles southwest of Darmstadt, have shut down, the management announcing that the employees had assumed a threatening attitude because their demands for a Christmas gift of 1,000 marks for married men and 800 marks for single men had not been granted.

The men's demands would mean the outlay of 4,000,000 marks which the management said conditions in the factory did not justify.

Owing to the hostile attitude of a group of the more radical employees, the management considered it advisable to cease all operations.
